. . . PREFACE . . .

THIS VOLUME, being the first of its kind ever published, goes forth to our patrons the results of months of arduous, unremitting and conscientious labor. None so well know as those who have been associated with us the almost insurmountable difficulties to be met with in the preparation of a work of this character. Since the inauguration of the enterprise, a large force has been employed in gathering material. In gathering from these numerous sources, both for the Directory and Biographical departments, the conflicting statements, the discrepancies and the fallible and incomplete nature of public opinion, caused by numerous swindlers in the past, have made it quite a difficult task to secure the many thousands of names represented in this book. Again, members of the same families disagree as to the spelling of the family name, contradict each other's statements as to the dates of birth, of settlement, nativity and other matters of fact. In this entangled condition, we have given preference to the preponderance of authority, and while we acknowledge the existence of errors and our inability to furnish a perfect Encyclopedic Directory, we claim to have come up to the standard of our promises, and given as accurate a work as the nature of the surroundings would permit. * * * * *

Whatever may be the verdict of those who do not and will not comprehend the difficulties to be met with, we feel assured that all just and thoughtful people will appreciate our efforts, and recognize the importance of the undertaking and the great public benefit that has been accomplished in preserving the valuable historical matter of the county and biographies of many of its citizens, as well as numerous illustrations, half-tones, etc. * * * * *

To those who have given us their support and encouragement, we acknowledge our gratitude, and can assure them that as years go by the book will grow in value as a repository, not only of pleasing reading matter, but of treasured information of the past that will become an enduring monument. * * * * *

In the year 1868 the school trustees of the town of Brazil decided to erect a new building for the accommodation of the pupils of the rapidly growing town. Plans and specifications were drawn up for the Meridian street building, which was finished in the year 1870, at a cost of something over twenty thousand dollars.

The gentlemen constituting the Board of Trustees at that time were Dr. W. H. Gifford, J. W. Kellar and H. Wheeler. Meridian street building is a monument to the sagacity of these gentlemen. The venerable Dr. Gifford and J. W. Kellar died, honored and respected citizens of our city. H. Wheeler is now a retired business man, living in Terre Haute. Mr. Wheeler enjoys the distinction of being a public-spirited, intelligent gentleman.

The school trustees employed the following teachers for the school year beginning in October, 1870: A. Odell, principal, and C. P. Eppert, Mrs. A. D. Hawkins, Mattie Mercer, Rachel Wheeler and E. J. Thompson as assistant teachers.

Prof. Odell's management of the schools seemed to be unsatisfactory to the Board of Trustees, and he resigned in the following February. Prof. Odell was succeeded by Prof. E. R. Smith, who served the remainder of the year and the succeeding year very acceptably. Mr. Smith retired from the teacher's profession, and has been for years a prominent physician in the city of Chicago. Prof. Smith was strong, mentally and physically. His giant frame and military bearing had a depressing effect on the average Brazil boy at that time. On one occasion Mr. Smith was assaulted by a pugilistic patron whose son had been punished in school. The Professor administered a good flogging to the aforesaid pugilist, much to the gratification of a crowd of bystanders. A small fine was imposed upon Mr. Smith, which was promptly paid by the Board. It is needless to say that the Superintendent commanded the respect of all the better class of people.

Mr. C. P. Eppert was promoted to the superintendency after the retirement of Prof. Smith, and served continuously till the year 1877, except the school year 1874 and 1875. Prof. M. S. Wilkinson was selected for that year. Prof. Eppert labored under the disadvantage of disease, contracted in Andersonville prison. He secured a position in the pension department, which he filled very honorably till the time of his death, a few years ago. He was prominent in the G. A. R., I. O. O. F., and F. and A. M.

September 17, 1877, Superintendent John C. Grege, the present incumbent, took charge of the schools. It was then that the preparation for the establishment of a high school was begun. The difficulties were many, and the progress was slow, so it was not until 1883 that the first class was graduated, consisting of one pupil, Mrs. Will M. Zeller, then Miss Mary Herr. Meanwhile, Mr. A. D. Hurst had succeeded Superintendent Gregg in 1882, and he in turn was displaced the next year by Superintendent Gregg, who was followed by Mr. J. M. Brown in 1884, and the next year, 1885, Superintendent Gregg was again restored to the place, which he still occupies. Ever since 1870 the rapid growth of the city, and the increase in the number of pupils, have kept the School Board at their wits' end to provide sufficient room and teachers. The following buildings were erected: Lambert street Building, four rooms, in 1875; Central Building, two rooms, was purchased in 1883; Jackson Street Building, four rooms, in 1888; Pinckley Street Building, four rooms, in 1881, and two rooms each were added to the Jackson Street and Lambert Street Buildings in 1893, making at present five buildings and twenty-four rooms and teachers. The enrollment increased in the same time from 650 in 1877 to 1,560 in 1895. The following prominent citizens have been members of the School Board since 1877: W. R. Torbert, Eli Hendrix, Major W. W. Carter, John Richardson, W. P. Richardson, Hon. E. S. Holliday, John Stewart, A. M. Daniels, A. F. Stonehart, Ex-Mayor Simon Herr, Wm. Leavitt, Wm. Spears, E. W. Smith, and the present Board—D. W. J. Wolf, Pres.; P. T. Wimney, Sec.; Hon. J. W. Bratton, Treas.

Superintendent John C. Gregg has held the position of Superintendent of the Brazil City Schools for 17 years. When he took charge in September, 1877, there was in all nine teachers employed, and, during the year 650 pupils enrolled. Now there are 26 teachers and almost 1,600 pupils in the schools. To his energy and careful work are largely due the establishment and success of the High School, which now number nearly 100 pupils, and has sent out over 150 graduates. Superintendent Gregg was born in Greene County, Ohio, March 7, 1814. His grandfather was a revolutionary soldier, serving under Washington from the battle of Long Island till the surrender at Yorktown, suffering the dreadful privations of the winters at Valley Forge and Morristown. He lived on his father's farm until September, 1802, when he entered the Sophomore class in Monmouth (Ill.) College. The next year he was a student in Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, where he remained till May, 1864, when he enlisted in Company 1 167th O. N. G., and served in the army till September of the same year. He then resumed his studies at Monmouth College, where he graduated June 25, 1865. He began teaching the same fall, and has taught continuously up to the present, with the exception of two years. On Christmas, 1867, he was married to Miss Susan A. Welty, of Oxford, O., and made his home at Richland, Ind., where he taught the academy for three years and a half. He then taught at Milroy and Tipton, three years each, and in 1877 took charge of the Brazil school. His family consists of Dr. J. W. Gregg, Longmont, Colo., John C. Gregg, jr., machinist, of Brazil, Willie B. Gregg, deceased in 1885, and his two daughters, Lillie and Nellie, who still live with their parents.

John Goodin was born July 25, 1829, near the town of Felicity, Clearmont County, Ohio, and was raised and received his education in Georgetown, the county seat of Brown County, Ohio. He was a schoolmate of President Grant, and his brothers and sisters, and Colonel Kautz, the man who captured John A. Morgan in the wind-up of his raids. He remained with his parents until he was 18 years old and then he served an apprenticeship to the building trade partly in Clearmont and finished in Brown County, Ohio.

Afterwards he served a term learning the art of spiral stair building under the instructions of John Henry Kolker, the man who put the first staircase in the Burnett House, Cincinnati, Ohio. He was married to Miss Minnie Jane Reed in 1852. She was the mother of three children; two are dead and one daughter is living, the wife of Ransom Woods, who resides on a farm one mile from the city of Brazil, Ind. He moved to Brazil in 1862, and lost by death his first wife July 20, 1863; he was remarried February 13, 1868 to Miss Elizabeth Howard. Four children is the result of this union—two sons and two daughters. One son and one daughter are dead, and the wife and one son and one daughter are living. About twenty-eight years ago he was master mechanic on the additions put to the old union depot, Indianapolis. In 1854-55 he was a correspondent of Robert Riddell, of Philadelphia, the great author on stair building. He took on himself the profession of an architect in 1870, and still continues to do some business in this line. He has a patent on putting in window and door casings so as to conceal the nails.

Albert, born in Bath, England, June, 1868, and Luther, also born at the above named city, 1866, came to America, 1887. The Wilkins Bros. have the most beautifully arranged gallery in the city of Brazil, prepared to do all kinds of inside and outside work. In their studio are to be found birds, parrots and various musical instruments that are calculated to make each and all pleasantly entertained while waiting. Their studio being the only one in the city on the ground floor makes it more convenient than any other gallery in the city; it also being located in the most beautiful part of the city makes it convenient to solicit competition. In fact, they dictate, others imitate. They lead and others follow. Parties desiring to have work done or see crayons or cabinets of their friends in Clay County will do well to call at the City Gallery, for the greatest assortment of prominent faces are to be seen there. It is second to none in the state of Indiana.

The First M. E. church of Brazil has had regular services since the year 1844. The original church, of which "Hendrix Chapel" is the successor was organized at the residence of Mr. James Hull, near the corner of Franklin and Main streets. Mr. James Rardin was the first class leader. Revs. Cornelius Swank and Thomas Bartlett were the preachers and Edward R. Ames of James Rardin and wife, James Hull, wife and daughter, J. The first society was composed of James Rardin and wife, James Hull, wife and daughter, J. Thorpe and wife, Benjamin Hedges and Samuel Butts. The society continued to meet for several years at the home of Mr. Hull. For a few years the meeting place was a hewed log school house east of Mr. Hull's residence on the same street. member of the church. Mr. Thorpe erected a double log house on the southwest corner of what is now Main and Meridian streets. The congregation worshipped in this house with Mr. Thorpe till, through his generosity mainly, a log building was erected on the corner of what is now Church and Walnut streets, which became at once church, school house and town hall, erected 1844, and the historian says the total cash outlay was only four dollars and forty cents—for nails and glass. This house was in advance of the times, for there was no town to use the hall, only a few children to go to school, and only a small society to worship in it as a church. A frame church was built in 1857 and 1858, where the present church stands, at a cost of about fifteen hundred dollars. This building served the society for twenty years, when the present Hendrix chapel was built at a cost of twelve thousand dollars, and dedicated January 13, 1878, Bishop Thomas Bowman having charge of the dedication services. Epworth Chapel, under the charge of Rev. W. N. Dunn, is in the eastern part of town, and Bethel, under the care of Mr. Dexter, in the southeast part of town, known as Hadleytown. There are at least one thousand Methodists living in Brazil at the present time. The present building is named in honor of Eli Hendrix, one of the old and influential citizens and business men of the city.

The Sunday school has had much to do with the prosperity and growth of the church in this community. Under the leadership of such men as Eli Hendrix, Thomas Henderson, C. E. Wilder and B. F. Kruzan, the church has had great prosperity. Hon. George A. Byrd is the present superintendent, and with his careful and vigilant management the school was never more prosperous. There are about fourteen officers and fifty teachers, and one thousand pupils connected with the school.

Rev. W. P. McKinsey is the present pastor of the church and school.

J. W. Evans was born in Annapolis, Ind., June 7, 1862. His father died when our subject was three years old, leaving a family of five boys and their mother with but little to live on, which necessitated each of the boys "looking out for himself." At the age of eleven years J. W. Evans began working, supporting himself and assisting a younger brother. When fifteen years old he wanted to learn music, but his mother's objection on account of poverty was an obstacle. Young Evans then left home, and having secured an old cornet began practicing, an old-time Ryan instruction book being his teacher. Sufficient progress was made to enable him to organize a band, and he met with such success in instructing the members of the band that his ability as a cornet player and teacher was recognized by other bands, from whom he received offers at good pay to instruct them. Mr. Evans continued teaching until his mother persuaded him to begin learning a trade. At eighteen years of age he began learning blacksmithing. When he had about finished his apprenticeship he was severely hurt by a horse, which caused him to be confined to his bed for some time and ended his career as a blacksmith. Mr. Evans then returned to his favorite occupation of teaching bands and selling musical instruments. In 1884 he located in Terre Haute and in 1886 became a member of the Ringgold band. In 1887 Mr. Evans was married. He accepted a position as clerk in the Baldwin music store in 1888 and in 1890 went "on the road" for the same company. His untiring energy and great success as a clerk and traveling salesman were rewarded in 1893 when the Baldwin company sent him to Brazil to open a music store, having selected Mr. Evans over a number of applicants for the position and without his knowledge of a vacancy existing. That this compliment to Mr. Evans has been worthily bestowed is attested by the fact that he has made a success of the Brazil part of the Baldwin company's business, especially when it is recalled that he was sent here but a short time previous to the coming on of the panic. Mr. Evans is a wide-awake, enterprising and pushing business man, and with him there is no such word as fail.

$1.60. Despite discouraging advice on all sides the Daily Times was conceived. E. M. Henkel and S. M. Grimes quickly followed and four days later the first number of the Daily Times was issued from the old New Era office, the type that was leased bearing the resemblance of disappointed ten penny nails, which was enameled with subscription apple butter and ground out on a cider press. All these discouraging obstacles were cast aside with the firm conviction that they would create a want and make it felt. Non-partisan in politics and non-sectarian in religion, it had naught to recommend it save its honesty of purpose. It claimed to be a newspaper pure and simple. It traveled that stormy road to success that is one dense mass of struggling, surging, seething humanity at the start, and so very nearly deserted at the close. No political party put its hand into its private pocket or the purse of the people to aid it in its struggles. Success was won by honest efforts, constant labor and a true desire to please. In seven and one-half years it has grown from a frail, hungry infant to stout, robust manhood—from the smallest newspaper in the city to the most influential and most widely circulated medium of news and printing establishments in the county. In 1891 they erected a substantial two-story office building on South Meridian street. On February 1, 1896, E. M. and Robert Henkel purchased the one-third interest of S. M. Grimes, and the firm name was changed to the Henkel Publishing company. The plant is now valued at $7,000.

Samuel Baldwin Riley was born in Wayne county, Ind., May 19, 1836. His early youth was spent upon a farm. At eighteen he left his mother's home. When nearly eighteen, unable to read, he worked on the farm, going to school in the winter until he could teach; then he taught and attended school alternately until 1857, when he went to Lebanon, Ill., entering McKendree college, where he remained four years, when he entered the law school taught by ex-Gov. A. C. French, graduating with the degree of LL.B. In October, 1861, he commenced the practice of law in Martinsville, Ind., with C. C. Nave, where he remained one year, removing on the 14th day of August, 1863, to Bowling Green, entering the law office of George W. Wiltse, as partner. He soon established an office of his own, and at the end of ten years, by his practice and otherwise, he had accumulated $30,000. On the third day of April, 1893, he purchased the Brazil Miner, editing and publishing it for eighteen years, selling it March, 1891. In October, 1891, he purchased the New Era, changing the name to The Orthonomic Era, of which he is now the editor and publisher. The Orthonomic Era means an era of right government. It advocates the great and catholic principles of equal and exact justice to all men: first announced by the poor Nazarene; reiterated by Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence; reaffirmed by James Madison in the Constitution of the United States. The editor advocates and believes these principles will never die so long as a true devotee of liberty lives. When the tides of ocean cease to ebb and flow, when the winds of heaven are hushed into perpetual silence, when the clouds no longer thunder, when earth's electric bolts are no longer felt nor heard, when her eternal fires go out, then, and not before, will these principles cease to animate and move the liberty loving people of this country.

lved that occupation, as trapper, driver, miner and in various other capacities, continuously, for more than thirteen (13) years. From 1881 until 1891 his time was divided between going to school, working in the mines, and teaching school. In 1891, in connection with John M. Rawley, he opened a law office in Brazil, Ind., in Zeller & Riddell's bank building, in which building they still have their office.

His early education consisted of a part of two or three terms in the public schools. In 1873 his father was killed in a mine casualty, leaving upon his brother and himself the care of the family, making any further attendance at school impossible. In 1881, having saved up some money, he attended a term at the Staunton public schools, working in the mines on Saturdays. During this term, his teacher, M. Markle, inspired him with the desire for more education, and the resolution to have it. In March, 1883, he entered the Central Indiana Normal school, and acted as janitor for the buildings, to help pay his way. He began teaching in the fall of this year, and taught in all six terms, the last two of which he was principal of the Staunton schools. It was his custom to teach during the winter months. After his school was out he would attend school until his money was exhausted, then he would return home and work in the mines until the schools commenced. In 1886 he graduated from the teachers' course in the Central Indiana Normal school with high honors and was subsequently chosen alumnus speaker for his class. In 1888, after pursuing a four years' course of study, he passed the examination of the Indiana Teachers' Reading circle, and was awarded a diploma. In 1889 he was admitted to the bar of the Clay circuit court, to practice law. In 1890 he graduated from the law department of the university of Michigan, and in the same year was admitted to the bar of the supreme court of Indiana. In 1894 he was appointed attorney for the city of Brazil, which position he now holds.
